Average Daily Population for January 2017 through March 2024

Average Daily Inmate Population is presented by DC Department of Corrections by facility type from January 2017 through March 2024. The inmate population shows a slight decline in the jail population from over 1400 inmates in January 2021 to 1364 inmates in March 2022, nearly a 11% decrease; but subsequently the population increased to 1858 the end of March 2024. After the passage of laws pertaining to weapons related offenses on July 9, 2023, the custodial population increased at an average rate of 58 per month. Those held for aggravated assault, assault, domestic violence threats or stalking; homicide, conspiracy, or kidnapping; weapons; robbery, carjacking, or burglary; USMS/USDC inmates; arson or property crimes; and drug offenses, accounted for approximately 82.5% of the incarcerated population as of March 31, 2024.
